Reasons for Allowance

Claims 1-4 and 6-21 are allowed.

This is examiner's statement of reasons for allowance.

The instant invention recites, a computer-implemented method for converting a paper document to an electronic document and sending the electronic document to at least one destination, said method comprising the steps of:

sending user interface information from a server computer to a sending computer that interfaces to a connected scanner, wherein the user interface information enables a user of the sending computer to designate a scanning parameter for scanning the paper document and destination information for specifying the destination;

receiving an identity of the designated scanning parameter and the specified destination information at the server computer;

command from the server computer to the sending computer to control the sending computer to scan the paper document by using the scanner to generate the electronic document, and to send the electronic document to the server computer in accordance with the scanning parameter corresponding to the received identity;

receiving the electronic document at the server computer; and sending the electronic document from the server computer to the destination in accordance with the destination information corresponding to the received identity.

The features identified, in combination with other claim limitations, are neither suggested nor discussed by the prior art of record.

Art Unit: 26227

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
